

Ahmadu Bello University (ABU) - Distance Learning Centre (DLC) Compiled Questions & Answers
Source highlights: Official ABU DLC website, ABU DLC admission PDFs, ABU Moodle, ABU main website, and recent fee summaries (see references in chat).

Q1: What is the Ahmadu Bello University Distance Learning Centre (ABU DLC)? A1: The ABU Distance Learning Centre (DLC) is the e-learning/distance education arm of Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria, providing accredited undergraduate, postgraduate diploma and master's degree programmes for students who cannot attend on-campus classes. It delivers programmes via blended e-learning platforms and is NUC-accredited.

Q2: Where can I find official information and apply? A2: Official information and application portals include the ABU DLC website (<https://abudlc.edu.ng>) and the application portal (<https://apply.abudlc.edu.ng>). The ABU main website also links to DLC pages.

Q3: Which programmes are offered via ABU DLC? A3: ABU DLC offers a growing list of programmes including (but not limited to): - B.Sc. Business Administration / B.Sc. Economics / B.Sc. Public Administration - B.Sc. Nursing (B.NSc) - B.Sc. Mass Communication (newly added) - Bachelor of Library & Information Science (BLIS) (newly added) - Postgraduate Diploma (PGD) courses - Master of Business Administration (MBA) - Other master's degree programmes (e.g., M.Sc in related fields) Programmes are periodically expanded; check the official programme list on the ABU DLC site or the undergraduate programmes page.

Q4: Is the ABU DLC accredited? A4: Yes. ABU DLC programmes are accredited by the National Universities Commission (NUC). The DLC is part of Ahmadu Bello University, an accredited federal university.

Q5: What are the general admission requirements for undergraduate programmes? A5: For 100-level (direct non-Direct Entry) admission: a minimum of five (5) O'Level credits (SSCE, WAEC, NECO, or equivalent) in relevant subjects, obtainable in not more than two sittings, including English and often Mathematics (subject-specific requirements may apply). Direct entry (200-level) and HND/ND entries have separate requirements (e.g., OND/HND with appropriate grades or A-level/IJMB passes). Specific programme admission requirements are provided in the ABU DLC admission requirements document.

Q6: Do I need to write JAMB to apply for ABU DLC undergraduate programmes? A6: No — ABU DLC undergraduate admissions generally do not require JAMB UTME. Admissions for DLC are handled through the DLC application portal and rely on O'Level/ND/HND/A-level qualifications as appropriate.

Q7: What are the admission requirements for postgraduate (MBA / PGD) programmes? A7: For PGD and MBA applicants, typical requirements include a relevant bachelor's degree (often with at least a 2.2 for some programmes) or equivalent professional qualifications; specific programmes may require a minimum CGPA, NYSC discharge/exemption or relevant work experience. Always check the ABU DLC postgraduate admission criteria for the exact programme.

Q8: How much are the tuition and fees? A8: Tuition is charged per course. Recent fee schedules published for ABU DLC show approximate figures (subject to change): - Undergraduate: ₦10,000 per course (plus acceptance, examination and miscellaneous fees). - Postgraduate Diploma / Masters: ₦20,000 per course (variations may apply). - Acceptance/registration, examination and miscellaneous fees apply per session or semester. These figures have been published on the ABU DLC site and summarised on third-party education sites — verify current amounts on the official ABU DLC tuition and fees page before payment.

Q9: What is the minimum pass mark and grading? A9: The ABU DLC minimum pass mark for courses is typically 45%. (Check programme-specific regulations and the student handbook for full grading and progression rules.)

Q10: What is the programme duration? A10: Duration varies by programme: - Typical undergraduate B.Sc. by distance may follow a 4-year structure (with adjustments for part-time/extended study). - Direct entry candidates admitted into 200-level will have shorter durations as per the course structure. - PGD and MBA durations depend on coursework load and session scheduling. Always consult the ABU DLC prospectus or programme page for exact duration details for a chosen course.

Q11: How are courses delivered and assessed? A11: Delivery uses e-learning platforms (ABU Moodle/e-learning) and blended resources — course materials, online lessons, and periodic contact or examinations. Assessments include assignments, continuous assessments, and written exams administered per DLC examination schedules.

Q12: Are examinations conducted physically? A12: Yes. Examinations are usually conducted in designated centers and written exams are part of assessment; check the DLC exam timetable and exam center instructions.

Q13: Is NYSC required for graduates? A13: NYSC requirements follow national rules: for degree holders under a certain age, NYSC clearance (certificate or exemption) may be necessary for certain processes. For postgraduate admissions, programmes may request NYSC certificates for eligibility in some cases; check the specific programme requirement.

Q14: Do ABU DLC graduates receive the same degree as on-campus graduates? A14: Graduates receive degrees awarded by Ahmadu Bello University. The degree certificate indicates the faculty/department; however, mode of study (distance learning) may be specified in transcripts depending on ABU's certification practices. Confirm with the registry for exact certificate wording.

Q15: How do I pay fees and accept admission? A15: Payment instructions are provided on the ABU DLC portal and may include bank details, online payment gateways, and specific acceptance fee amounts. Always follow official portal instructions and obtain receipts.

Q16: How can I contact ABU DLC for enquiries? A16: Contact details and social media include: - Official website: <https://abudlc.edu.ng> - Application portal: <https://apply.abudlc.edu.ng> - Official X (Twitter) handle: @ABU_DLC and Instagram: @abudlc - ABU main site: <https://abu.edu.ng> For phone/email, check the ABU DLC website 'Contact' section which lists support lines and office email addresses.

Q17: Where can I find the student handbook or prospectus? A17: The ABU Student Handbook and ABU DLC prospectuses/admission requirement PDFs are available from the ABU main site and the ABU DLC site (e.g., Admission Requirements PDF and e-learning brochure).

Q18: Are there scholarships or financial aid for DLC students? A18: Scholarship availability is managed by ABU and external sponsors. Distance learners may be eligible for certain internal or external scholarships; inquire with the DLC office or the university scholarship office.

Q19: What is the minimum GPA or CGPA for progression and graduation? A19: Progression and graduation CGPA requirements follow university regulations; refer to the ABU student handbook and programme regulations for exact values for first-class, second-class, and pass categories.

Q20: Where can I verify course accreditation and updated programme additions? A20: Verify accreditation and new programmes via: - ABU DLC official website (programme pages) - ABU official announcements (abu.edu.ng) - National Universities Commission (NUC) programme accreditation listings
